

A winter wonderland in Canada

In front of me is a torques hill, it is as jaggy as a knife, covered with powdery, shimmering, dazzling snow, it is as fluffy as marshmallows. Above me, I see the sky is whispering smokey white mist to the earth. Traces of cool candy floss dance around the hills. The turquoise lake is glittering under the sunshine, as dazzling as a diamond and the water is as clear as crystal. The little canoe on the lake looks like a delicate artist painting a yellow butterfly in a sea of blue flowers.
